

● Match mark diagram

Clamp adjustment guidance for the arms has been changed ONLY for the point where the arms attach to the body, as formerly indicated inside the box at the left. Instead, please refer to the corrected guidance diagram below

The rear edge of the shoulder should be adjusted to be parallel with the line on the body, as shown.

